Recommendation Letter

Dear Sir/Madam,

It's my pleasure to recommend Dr. Ranga Raj Dhungana who is working as the Executive Director for Himalayan Association against STI-AIDS (HASTI) in Nepal. I know him since I recently visited Nepal our project on rheumatic heart disease. We were very happy to see the activities of Integrated School-based Health Program for Trauma Related Stress Management (ISHP-TRSM) and conducted a joint workshop with the school teachers to formulate a plan for execution for the study on RHD. The workshop has been done successfully with the technical and managerial support of Dr. Ranaga Raj Dhungana. I found him a prominent figure in public health sector. I would like to appreciate his communication skills to implement the project in different strata of the society.

Dr. Ranga Raj Dhungana has been implementing "Integrated School-based Health Program for Trauma Related Stress Management (ISHP-TRSM) for students and Parents" in Dhading district of Nepal. He has excellent knowledge and skill on health-related issues about how to solve the problems. I have read numerous reports and book chapters written by him that have been resources for healthcare providers and medical students in Nepal. His adherence to planned schedule, focus on outcome and dedicated execution style are asset for any organization. I am proud to be associated with him for collaborative work on rheumatic heart disease.

I wish him success in further pursuits of his professional learning and career advancement as his knowledge and experience will be instrumental in developing various public health project to the benefit of the Nepali population.

Dear Sir/Madam,

GFA Consulting Group has commissioned HASTI to conduct a process and impact evaluation of the Join-in-Circuit on AIDS, love and sexuality (JIC) which has been implemented with support from GIZ (formerly GTZ) in Kathmandu valley and in Dailekh district. The JIC is an interactive and innovative learning tool on HIV and reproductive health for young people which was developed jointly by GIZ and the NCASC in 2007 and carries the name 'SangSangai'. We hope that the evaluation to be conducted in Kathmandu valley and Dailekh district will help us learn about the effectiveness, relevance and appropriateness of the tool for the needs of young people in order for us to improve the tool and determine the strategic direction that should be taken with regard to its implementation modality.

The evaluation team consists of Mr. Nirmai Bista (evaluation team leader), Dr. Ranga Raj Dhungana and Dr. Vivek Dhungana. The team will travel to Dailekh and Surkhet with a group of 8 enumerators to conduct follow-up interviews with 125 grade 10 students that participated in SangSangai in Dailekh and with a comparison group of 125 grade 10 students in Surkhet. The evaluation is part of the programme and an addition to the ongoing monitoring of the effect of SangSangai which was ensured through administering a pre- and post-test questionnaire. We hope that you support this team in their endeavor to create evidence on the effectiveness and usefulness of this innovative method which will subsequently help us improve the tool in order to address young people's information needs even better.

Best wishes,
